

One will make government
BIGGER.

The other will make you
HEALTHIER.

President Obama and Democrats are conducting a dangerous $1.6 trillion experiment with our health care that would:

- Raise taxes by $800 billion, mostly on small businesses.
- Create a national set of one-size-fits-all regulations, making health care more expensive for everyone.
- Impose new regulations for existing plans which could make your employer drop your plan or make your current insurance company stop offering your plan.
- Create a government-run insurance company which would unfairly drive out competitors to become a monopoly.

Republicans agree we need to reform health care — it costs too much. Republicans have offered common-sense reforms to improve health care, including:

- Make health insurance portable so Americans can keep their coverage when they change jobs, reducing costs.
- Provide tax credits and deductions to make health care more affordable and accessible.
- Reduce burdensome regulations to make monthly premiums less expensive.
- End frivolous lawsuits that increase costs throughout the health care system.
